

European Energy Journal

16

Volume 5 | Issue 3 | August 2015

The Energy Union: a union in diversity | 17

From a political point of view Anne Houtman demonstrates that different energy mixes can be turned into an advantage if national policies are coordinated and complementarities fully exploited

The creation of a European Energy Union | 24

In their scientific in-depth analysis, Rafael Leal-Arcas and Juan Alemany Rios herald the auspicious design for a cohesive energy policy that acknowledges the deeper security and climate goals

Enforcement record of the Energy Community | 61

Discussing the case-law of transposition and implementation, Rozeta Karova regrets that the existing enforcement system is not suitable for achieving the ambitious goals of the Energy Community

Marketing renewable energy and auctioning solar plant ground: Adequate means to make Germany's "Energiewende" cheaper for the end customer? | 76

Philipp Wichter provides first insights into Germany's two new policy tools and predicts that household prices will fall because of increased supply, not because of obligatory direct marketing

Law making	State of play and perspectives of the negotiations in the European institutions on pending and forthcoming legislative proposals	3
Case law	ECJ finds that the German duty on nuclear fuel is compatible with EU law (Kernkraftwerke Lippe-Ems), clarifies application in time of successive Union law (Globula) and finds that the gas regulation entails right to effective judicial protection (E.ON Földgáz)	8
Book reviews	M. Waloszyk , Law and policy of the European gas market	15
Country reports	Italy : Court declares Robin Hood tax unconstitutional; Poland : New model for renewable energy support finally adopted; Slovenia : Developing an investment strategy for energy	87
On the scene	Transparency and lobbying	101