

European Energy Journal

2

Volume 2 | Issue 1 | January 2012

EU Foreign Energy Policy: from Intergovernmentalism to Supranationalism | 21

Nicole Ahner looks at the EU's tools and competences to speak efficiently with one voice, and on the best way to use and develop them in a sensible way

The 2050 Energy Roadmap | 32

Helen Donoghue describes the concept and the role of the Roadmap that the European Commission published in December 2011

Changing Energy Policy: the proposed Energy Efficiency Directive and its consequences | 38

Although the Directive is a step in the right direction Dörte Fouquet and Jana Nysten regret that the proposal is not sufficiently ambitious, not clear enough, and creates a serious danger to the Emission Trading System

Understanding the Public Service Obligation in the Electricity Sector | 53

Rozeta Karova offers some policy recommendations to help the Contracting Parties to the Energy Community to improve the compliance of their legislation with the EU Electricity Directive

Law making	State of play and perspectives of the negotiations in the European institutions on pending and forthcoming legislative proposals	3
Case law	Danfoss: Recuperation of unduly levied taxes; EdF: Opinon on the Market Economy Investor Principle; ENEL: Electricity dispatching services	10
Book reviews	Nadja Sue Wüstemann , Die Vorgaben der EU im Bereich der Energieeffizienz; Peter Kaderjak , Security of Energy Supply in Central and South East Europe	17
Country reports	Sweden: Transmission and distribution of electricity and gas; Biofuels and bioliquids; National Action Plan on renewable energy; Ukraine: Energy Strategy to 2030; Ministry and Regulatory Commission; Current legislation	64
On the scene	Over the summit	67